OUR KITTIES WANT TO THANK YOU!

We had so many requests this year to take in pregnant cats. Maisy arrived on November 5, pregnant, living on the street, begging for food. The neighbors suspected she was homeless as a result of a local house fire. Maisy is now in a warm, dry shelter and her kittens will be safe and well-fed when they are born. She is a friendly girl and will be looking for a forever home in the New Year.

Princess was left behind in her apartment building. She has an identification chip which tells us she is ten years old. Her owner, who registered her, passed away four years ago. Due to privacy issues, we could not find the name of the apartment owner who left her there. This friendly little girl needed a new place to go. We made sure little Princess was well cared for.

We received a call that feral kittens were trapped in a back yard and had nowhere to go. We put them in a large crate and began to love them into feeling safe. We watched them go from hissing and spitting to purring and blinking at us. The one with big blue eyes is especially loving. We still have a friendly white male looking for his forever home!

MEET GUS

Gus was brought into a local trailer park as a kitten to catch rats. He was covered in flea bites, but after five years of living outside, Gus is adjusting well to his new life, cuddling and playing with a ball of

MEET OZZY

One of our volunteers feeds feral cats on her way to work. Ozzy jumped into her car and went home with her! Like his namesake, Ozzy is still working on his social graces, but is a nice boy and uses foil. He likes to be held, brushed and is living the dream. He just got adopted into a quiet, loving home! Have a good life Gus!

his litter box. Like all our cats, he has been neutered, has his rabies and distemper shots and a clean blood test. If you are interested in Ozzy or his brother, contact Jill at or 978-969-2389.
